Presidential Proclamation 2039-Banking Holiday, Bills of Exchange Act 1882, 12 CFR Part 201, Federal Reserve Act Section 16 Paragraphs 2 & 4, 59 Stat 237 §2, 12 U.S. Code § 412, 18 U.S. Code § 8, 12 USC Chapter 3

Individuals should not be liable damages for acting pursuant to a statute later declared invalid. Citizens and public officials have a right to accept the law as it is written until it is repealed or traditionally condemned. They are not required to speculate upon the validity of a statute or to act under it at their peril. Downs v. Jacobs, 272 A.2d 706, 707 (Del. 1970)
